Want Breathitt To Run.

Friends of former Attorney General James Breathitt have started a boom for him for the Republican nomination for United States Senator, and the belief was expressed by some of them in Louisville that he would shortly announce his candidacy. In fact, it was learned several weeks ago that Judge Breathitt had been waited upon at his home in Hopkinsville by a delegation of prominent Republicans from various sections of the State and asked to make the race for the senatorial nomination, since which time he has had the matter under consideration. Judge Breathitt is one of the best known Republican politicians in the State, and during his term as Attorney General he handled many important cases affecting the State. He was County Judge of Christian county at the time he was nominated for the State office in 1907, and has long been a power in the party organization in the Second congressional district.—Louisville Times.

YOUTHFUL PRODIGY

On Program of Entertainment at Pembroke.

Clarence McGar, aged 12 years, the Crofton musical prodigy, is on the program for the rendition of several numbers on the occasion of the concert, musical and old Time Fiddlers' Contest at Pembroke next Friday night, April 3. Master McGar's playing on either the violin, guitar or mandolin is so extraordinary as to excite wonder and a astonishment wherever he appears. Other catchy stunts will also be introduced during the evening by masters in their special lines. About a dozen performers from this city will participate in the entertainment. The net proceeds will be used in defraying the expenses of some of the Confederate veterans desirous of attending the forth coming reunion at Jacksonville, Fla., who are financially unable to do so without assistance.

Twenty Thousand

Miles on Horseback.

Bowling Green, Ky., March 27.—C. C. Beck, 49; George W. Beck, 33; J. B. Ransom, 40, and R. G. Ryne, 22, cowboys of Olympia, Wash., arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon from Glasgow and Frankfort, Ky., and will leave Bowling Green for Franklin Ky., and Nashville, Tenn., on horseback, on a 20,000-mile journey over the entire United States, which if they complete with "Pinto" a Morgan and Arabian pony, 7½ years old, 12½ hands high, white and black, with which they began the journey at Olympia on May 1 1912, will mean for the four men $20,000 in gold, which will be paid by a magazine. They visit every capital in the United States, having their pictures made with the governor, and if he be absent, the secretary of state is asked to take his place. The cowboys are given until June 1, 1915, to complete the trip. They have covered a distance of 11,300 miles in 23 months, averaging 23 miles a day in six days of the week.

When they crossed the Cascade mountains in Oregon going through Santian Pass they were compelled to battle their way through snow between twelve and twenty feet deep and thirty miles in length. They swam Powder river in Montana, and "Pinto" had a narrow escape from being washed away on account of the swift current and whirlpools, where a number of bridges had been swept away. The animal was roped on both sides and taken safely to the shore.

The cowboys have enjoyed good health and the coldest weather experienced was in Michigan when the thermometer registered at 12 degrees below zero. Since starting they have visited the following states, besides Washington, the starting point: Montana, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, and Alabama. The following states are to be visited: Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, and California.

Umbrella Plant.

The umbrella plant is a sedge plant and must have moisture, but it may be grown to fine proportions in a moist corner of the garden. Propagate by taking the umbrella-like tops and leaving about an inch of stem to them. When done blooming, sink in water, wet sand or wet earth. The roots may be divided to good advantage.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

ALMOST PERFECT IN SYSTEM

Modern Hotel a Wonderful Improvement Over Its Predecessor of Only a Few Years Ago.

"It is wonderful to appreciate the difference in hotel systems of today and 15 years ago. And still, with all the conveniences that are offered to guests at practically the same rates, there is the man who finds fault.

"Today guests have telephones in their rooms, whereas several years ago they had anything from a cow-bell to a row of brass checks operated with a cord.

"At the old Gibson house, about twelve years ago, we installed a device for lessening labor which was called a teleseme. It was a sort of punch button affair which was supposed to signal for anything from a San Francisco newspaper to a bag of peanuts. You'd push the button so many times and different lights would bob up on the board in the office after the clerk had released the indicator.

"One day I pulled out the indicator on a certain room and the lights flared up. The signal showed a very difficult drink and I hastened to notify the cafe.

"A boy took the drink upstairs, but could find no one. After a little investigation we found the room had not been occupied for two weeks and that the signal had been given when a maid had pushed the bed against the room button.

"Another device was the old cord in the room at the Grand hotel. A certain number of pulls would release brass checks on which was scheduled the desire of the guest. Whenever a pull came on this indicator it sounded as though some one had dropped a couple of hundred brass checks on a marble floor.

"This affair was a nuisance, for we got to sending ice water to a room every time it worked. Many times a guest would receive three or four pitchers of water.

"Then some one came along and put in the telephone for hotels. The modern day hotel is a wonderful institution compared with that of but a few years ago."—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Jewel Thief's Clever Idea.

A noted jewel thief was in the habit of boldly entering hotels in the West end of London, carrying under his arm a small parcel containing a soft cheese. Quickly marching upstairs, he would enter the rooms that were not at the time being occupied, pilfer any articles of jewelry that were lying about on the dressing tables, bury them in the cheese, and return the way he had come. In this manner he appropriated no less than $6,000 worth of jewels within twelve months.

Essay on Being Good.

A small girl on the front form was looking very miserable. "What is the matter, Doris?" asked the teacher, anxiously. "Don't you feel well?" "Yes, teacher, I'm only trying to be good."—Manchester Guardian.

FOR THE GRIP

Peruna Is Sometimes Used With Good Results

Mrs. Jane Gift.

Many people take it after they have had the grip. Their convalescence is slow. They have suffered along for a month or two, without any signs of complete recovery. Then they resort to Peruna as a tonic, with splendid results.

Mrs. Jane Gift, R. F. D. 1, Athens, Ohio, whose portrait appears above, writes: "I think I would have been dead long ago if it had not been for Peruna. Six years ago I had a grippe very bad. The doctor came to see me every day, but I gradually grew worse. I told my husband I thought I would surely die if I did not get relief soon.

"One day I picked up the newspaper and accidentally found a testimonial of a woman who had been cured of grip by Peruna. I told my husband I wanted to try it. He went directly to the drug store and got a bottle of Peruna. I could see the improvement in a very short time and was soon able to do my work. I continued using it until I was entirely cured."

Mr. Victor Patneande, 328 Madison St., Topeka, Kas., writes: "Twelve years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and I never really recovered my health and strength, but grew weaker every year, until I was unable to work.

"Two years ago I began using Peruna and it built up my strength so that in a couple of months I was able to go to work again. This winter I had another attack of la grippe, but Peruna soon drove it out of my system. My wife and I consider it a household remedy."

Those who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

THE MINISTER'S FEE.

In early days clergymen depended in considerable measure for their living on donation parties. It was customary in the fall of the year to stock their cellars with liberal supplies of firewood, fruits, vegetables and meats. Cash payments were meager, infrequent and irregular. But with a bin of potatoes and a barrel of salt pork below, there was no danger of actual starvation.

Religious parishes long since substituted salary payments, more or less periodical, for the old fashioned donation parties. But one single exception, the custom of the wedding fee, has survived. Trinity Episcopal Church, of Chicago, has just announced a plan to have a minister on hand continuously to perform weddings, at which no fee will be accepted.

Clergymen are now averse to anything even slightly suggestive of the tip you hand to a Pullman porter. Few railroads give ministers free passes as formerly. The minister's fee at the wedding has long furnished material for humorous paragraphs, and some would like to see the custom done away with.

The objection to the course suggested by Trinity Church, of Chicago, is that clergyman are usually underpaid. A few metropolitan divines, who combine fascinating eloquence of speech with a gift for executive administration of large institutional plants, may draw comfortable incomes. But these combination of gifts are rare. The average country minister thinks he is on "Easy Street" if he draws $1,000 a year. Thousands and thousands of them work for $2 a day, less than the average mechanic receives.

The marriage fee is a tax that comes once or twice in a lifetime, and it bears on about every one, and helps to support unselfish work for community service. When clergymen are adequately paid, no doubt it will fall into disuse. The felicitous hour of marriage opens up many parsimonious purses, in support of agencies that work for community betterment.—Clarksville Leaf-Chronicle.
